

Can someone explain to me, in simple, non-political terms, why corporations are now running the elections????